WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—Lord Kitchener's ultimate mission during his mysterious absence from the British war office is said by confidential information received here today to be India, where, according to the same information, British rule is confronted with a more serious state of threat than has generally been known outside of British official circles.

Through the thick veil which the British censorship has thrown about the events in India and Egypt comes a statement that Seventh Sultan Chuk, the Nawab of Hyderabad, one of the most influential of the native princes and a staunch supporter of the British, has been deposed by his people.

This development coming as one of the climaxes to successive reports of mutinies and unrest, many of which have been substantiated and admitted by the British government, is said to be the leading reason for Lord Kitchener's departure which has been shrouded with much secrecy.

It has been officially announced that the head of the British war office was on his way to the theatre of operations in the Near East which has been interpreted as the Balkans where the virtual stimulation of the moment comes to the fore. Information reaching the United States, however, through channels not subject to censorship is to the effect that it is well known in London among those close to the government that while Lord Kitchener may stop in the Balkans to coordinate the efforts of the allied forces his ultimate destination is not only India but Egypt where the British gateway to Asia is guarded by the Turkish-Hindian-Turk alliance in the Balkans, coupled with repeated rumors of activities of German agents fomenting a direct attack on the British India have caused reports of disaffection in Egypt also ascribed to these agents.

Since the Turks failed to cut the Suez Canal, mainly through the prompt arrival of Colonial troops from New Zealand and Australia, it has been reported that agents from Constantinople and Berlin have been conducting a persistent propaganda campaign among the Allies, thus making the British government's position in the Near East more difficult. The importance of the British of the reported disaffection of Nizam of Hyderabad may be illustrated by the fact that at the critical moment when Turkey entered hostilities, and the Sultan offered an armistice to the British, the Nizam of Hyderabad, head of the largest Mohammedan state in India, issued a manifesto to his people in which he declared it to be the duty of all Mohammedans in India to adhere to their British allegiance.

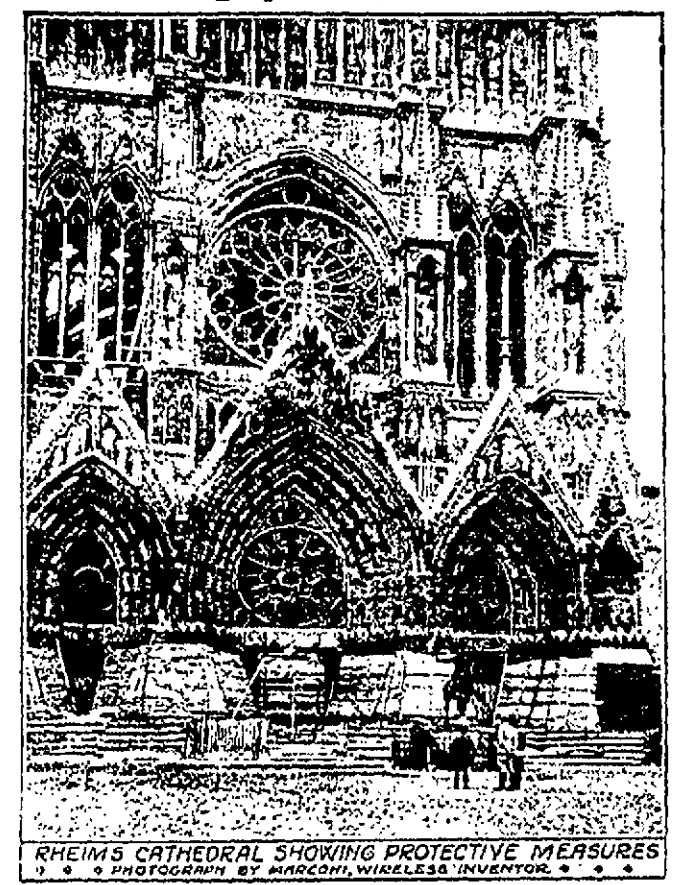

The Nizam, who is one of the wealthiest of the native princes, also contributed $2,000,000 to the expenses of the British Government in the war. He is said to have been transported to Europe. Such information has come to Washington on these developments is of an unofficial character and inasmuch as it does not emanate from sources which would be interested in spreading reports of disaffection in British territory it has been given credence.

The selection of Lord Kitchener for the task of holding British oriental empire intact is viewed generally as being based on his long service in India and Egypt, his knowledge of the native temperament and his large personal following among the British in India. Further in the fact of the disaffection in India and Egypt was evidently of such threatening proportions that the use of Japanese troops was being suggested to take the place of native forces which had been withdrawn for the European battlefront.

The late report to the State Department on political conditions in British possessions in India were received more than two months ago when details of the mutiny of natives at Singapore, in which practically all officers and most of the troops of a British regiment were killed. An extraordinary force of British troops was sent to quell the mutiny for the native leaders captured many of them and after a trial they were executed.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—At the Japanese embassy the plan was expressed that under the treaty between Great Britain and Japan, the latter would be bound to furnish troops if called upon for duty in India or Egypt. The embassy, however, had no advice on the situation in India.

TRUCKS NOW CONTROLLEDTWO THIRDS OF SERBIA.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—The Central Powers and their Bulgarian ally now control about two-thirds of Serbia and within a few weeks probably will have the main Serbian railroad running through Belgrade and Nish in full operation. This will give them two routes to Constantinople as communication by way of the Danube to Bulgaria is already open.

That this has not been accomplished without weakening the other front is indicated by definite news of Russian advances on the Rumanian front. The last part of the eastern battle line on which the invaders kept up anything in the nature of a definite offensive.

Plans for the plan of the Central Powers in the Balkans have worked like well-oiled machinery, but the latest news from Macedonia indicates the initiative is not to be left entirely to the invaders which longer. Reports from the west front indicate that the British forces are making their presence felt against the Bulgarians. The Entente Allies claim their operations are now reaching along the front, and that the British are now making their presence felt against the Bulgarians. The Entente Allies claim their operations are now reaching along the front, and that the British are now making their presence felt against the Bulgarians.

It is reported also that the Serbians holding out in the Macedonian front have checked the Bulgarians after the latter heavy losses on them. If the Serbians can sustain the attack for a short period the French should be able to join them south of Vele.

The Russian continue their policy of sharp and unexpected attacks at various points along the front. The latest of these attacks, according to Petrograd, consisted of three successive assaults on the Bulgarian front, south of the city of Plovdiv and these were followed by a fourth attack on the Plovdiv front, where the Anglo-German line was broken in two places.

Except for military successes on the western front nothing of great importance has occurred recently in that theatre of war.

UNIONTOWN, Nov. 9.—Judge J. Q. Vanderlin in court this morning discharged a rule for judgment for want of sufficient affidavit of defense in the case of Carrie C. Schmalz against the Prudential Insurance Company of America. The plaintiff's husband, Harry S. Schmalz, carried a policy of life insurance for $500 in the defendant company. He died and the company refused to pay the policy. The action was instituted by the plaintiff, in whom the policy was payable, to recover the amount of the policy. The defendant company alleged in its affidavit of defense that the insured had misrepresented his physical condition when he secured the policy, and had practiced a fraud on the company. Among other things it was alleged he had been asked before the policy was issued if he was in good health, to which he replied that he was while in a matter of fact he was then suffering from a disease of the lungs and throat, known as pulmonary tuberculosis, from which he died about four months later. A. H. Wallace this morning received word that his mother, Mrs. Catherine Wallace, and his brother, Michael Cannon, were in no danger from the fire on board the French liner Rochambeau, upon which they were passengers bound for Paris. Michael Cannon, also of Connellsville, is a passenger on the liner.

Mrs. Wallace and son were bound for Paris where they will visit Miss Zina Wallace, who has been there for over a year.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—The fire in the hold of the passenger steamship Rochambeau, which broke out after the liner left here last Saturday, has been extinguished and the steamship is now steaming for London.

News that the fire in the reserve coal bunker of the Rochambeau had been extinguished was received in a brief wireless this morning from Captain Julian.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Five members of the French industrial and commercial committee landed here today from the steamer Lafayette and said they came to arrange for the purchase at the conclusion of the war of at least $100,000,000 worth of structural iron and steel, machinery and industrial supplies.

All supplies of this character, the committee said, were formerly imported from Germany.

The committee said that while they are primarily to reconstruct and modernize French industries when the war is over, they will endeavor to establish preferred trade relations between the United States and France.

A WINNING DAILYThe Courier Awarded Signal Honor
by Newspaperdom.

A signal honor has been accorded to The Courier by Newspaperdom, one of the leading trade journals of the country, by being selected as one of its "Winning Dailies." On another page the award of Newspaperdom is printed in full.

Only one newspaper which can withstand the acid test of merit is chosen as a "Winning Daily" by Newspaperdom. Circulation is not the only requirement; the newspaper must have an unusual measure up to a high standard in all other departments.

Newspaperdom's award to The Courier is based upon the general excellence of its news and editorial makeup and efficiency; its largest circulation and gilt-edged volume of advertising in a field where the evening paper is supreme; because of its exceptional excellence because of the careful planned and maintained circulation distribution; because it is in all intents and purposes a real "home" newspaper, appealing to its readers as well as its community because it is recognized by men and women in all parts of life as the standard, competent newspaper of its field.

Less than 200 newspapers in the United States which is to be held in the West had the honor which has been accorded The Courier.

It is Mrs. Osgood's Wonder. Unlike the electric needle, it can be used with perfect safety. Unlike evil-smelling depilatories it doesn't burn the skin. I used it first over a year ago and have not had a trace of superfluous hair since." Mrs. Osgood's Wonder is quite inexpensive and is sold by Lumbrey Bros. Co. and other up-to-date drug stores. MANY TROUBLES DUE TO WEAK KIDNEYS

"It is no use advertising a medicine unless the medicine itself is good enough to back up the claims you make for it. On the other hand it is a pleasure for druggists to sell a medicine which cures cures come in after and tell how much good it has done them. And that is why druggists like to sell and recommend Solvax, the great kidney remedy. Ever since we first introduced Solvax drug, clerks have been busy selling it. It is a sometimes hard to keep a sufficient stock on hand. Moreover Solvax is always sold on a positive guarantee. If it fails to the kidney sufferer or money back. This money seems rash but we have sold so many good words in favor of Solvax that it is not expected that many packages will be returned."

This shows great faith in Solvax. It really is a most unusual medicine because it overcomes the worst cases of kidney complaints by removing the cause. It goes straight to the seat of the trouble. It works right in and cleans out the kidneys and makes them pass off all the uric acid and poisonous waste matter that lodges in the joints and muscles, causing rheumatic pains; soothes and heals the bladder and quickly ends all such troubles.

Nothing is more uncomfortable or hurts a person's perfect enjoyment of life more than troublesome kidneys and their attending evils. Use Solvax and begin to get your full measure of benefit out of life. Sold by A. A. Clarke and other leading druggists in this vicinity.—Adv.

DOCTOR WANTS RHEUMA FORMULA

An Old-Time Patient Claims Great Benefit From Its Use.

The following is clipped from a medical journal of May, 1914, page 166, "Change on request." An old-time patient of mine just informed me that he treated with a number of physicians and patent medicines for rheumatism for the past two years without obtaining much relief until he used a preparation called "Rheuma," and after taking two or three bottles he claims almost a complete cure. Can you tell me what the formula is?—T. A. M., M.D., Missouri.

COUNCIL REJECTS BELL PHONE OFFER FOR ITS CONDUIT

Council last night may have an important bearing upon the future of Connellsville as an industrial center. It means that legitimate industries may be exonerated from taxation if they are worthy.

While no explanation of the object of going on record in this way at this time was made, it is possible that the prospective glass plant on the West Side, announcement of which was exclusively in The Courier yesterday, may have had something to do with it.

Mr. Dugan is interested in getting new industries for the city, particularly for the West Side, and this particular one looks good to those who have investigated it.

The resignation of A. A. Gelker as a patrolman and the temporary appointment of W. M. Hall, was reported by Mayor Marlette.

Council adjourned to meet on Friday night to discuss the recent assessment appeals.

TO MAKE DANDRUFF QUICKLY VANISH

Try Simple, Inexpensive Home Treatment.

No one likes dandruff, but to get rid of it you must do more than wash your hair. The cause of dandruff lies not in the hair, but on the scalp and in the hair roots, and just as twice daily you use a germicidal tooth powder or cream to cleanse your teeth of germs, so you should use Parisian Sage twice daily to drive dandruff from your scalp, prevent its return, protect your hair from falling out and nourish its proper growth. Dandruff makes your hair fall out. Parisian Sage makes Dandruff fall out and your hair stay in.

A delightfully perfumed hair and scalp treatment easily applied at home, very inexpensive and obtainable from A. A. Clarke or at any drug store or toilet counter.

TUESDAY EVENING, NOV. 9, 1915.

THE SCHOOLMASTER OF THE WHITE HOUSE.

The Little Schoolmaster of the White House who came to Washington with the New Freedom in one hand and the Big Stick in the other inaugurated his entry into public life by disregarding precedent and delivering his message to the Congress in person. In practice the message amounted to little less than orders, and the servile manner in which the Democratic members of the Legislative body made submission to the bars of the patronage pen by closed against them was an illuminating illustration of the high purpose and patriotic character of Democratic Reform. The President now proposes to go a step further in his elaboration of the New Freedom as related to the Rule of the Majority. It is announced that he has issued orders that the Senate shall abandon an unbroken custom and adopt a closure rule.

The Wilson Democracy is Progressive. It has never failed to ignore and trample upon the traditions of the past when they stood in the way of its present purposes. The wise custom of the Senate which permits each member to have speech upon every matter before it has never been violated, though there have been times when the temptation to do so was even stronger than it is today because party feeling ran higher. This is not the first suggestion of a closure rule in the Senate, but it is the first time it ever emanated from Democratic sources. In the past it has on occasions been the demand of impatient Republicans, but wise counsels always prevailed, and the rule remained undisturbed because it involved a principle which might not be ignored with safety. Republicans recognized the fact that when the right of free speech was suppressed the foundation of free government would be undermined.

What the Democrats will do at the coming session remains to be seen. They will adopt the closure rule if the President has his way, and thus far his will has been the law. He made Democracy, so long and so persistently a protest against bossism, especially the bossism of Opposition, the wonder and the admiration of machine politicians of every age and condition. They law and caucus rule, against which the Democracy were borne into power mightily protesting, were immediately adopted as justifiable and proper Democratic practice. The Speech from the Throne was quickly followed by the ultimatum of the Caucus. In the House the freedom of debate was an idle jest reserved for the moments.

The Little Schoolmaster evidently aspires to play the Little Corporal of the Democratic party, but even Napoleon has his Waterloo, and Wilson is fast approaching a similar decision period in his career after a beleaguered but not less absolute reign.

THE CASE FOR GOOD ROADS.

The December Grand Jury will be called upon to consider a rather ambitious but none the less commendable program of permanent road improvement in Fayette county. The proposed improvements are all meritorious and pretty evenly divided geographically. If they have the recommendation of the County Commissioners they should have the endorsement of the Grand Jury unless there are grave reasons why such approval should be withheld.

The September Grand Jury refused without rhyme or reason to approve the permanent road construction proposed in Conneltsville, Bullock and Upper Tyrone townships. Such action was an arbitrary exercise of belief authority. It is true that the necessity of these roads was not urged before the Grand Jury by county officials and citizens of the vicinities, but neither seemed to think this was necessary. Perhaps it was not, but on the other hand possibly this failure to present the matter was construed as an act of discourtesy and as such resented.

The promoters of the Good Roads movement in Fayette county will probably see to it that there will be no complaint on this score by the December Grand Jury. Especially should the northern section profit by its September experience. The case for Good Roads should be carefully prepared and urgently presented.

If the worst comes to pass, Woodrow can still rely on the Single Term plank in the Bull Moose Platform. That would be awful hard on the Barfoot Boys of Fayette county, but it would be a forerunner of the inevitable. The next President will be a Republican.

That Single Term plank has not drifted so far but that it may not be recovered by the Ancient Mariner of the Platte.

The Conneltsville News is still explaining the defeat of Woman Suffrage. Woman Suffrage was defeated in Pennsylvania chiefly because it didn't get enough votes. The same thing happened to it in New York and New Jersey. Why worry about this question when there remains unresolved the ancient mystery, "Who struck Billy Patterson?" and the present inquiry, "Why should Woodrow worry?"

The Berthanna Smith estate threatens to break out of chancery.

The Uniontown New Freedom says there is no way of ascertaining the sentiment of the women on Suffrage because they have no vote. There is nothing in the Constitution or the rules of the county which forbid them being invited to express their opinions, even at the polls.

The West Virginia coal barons are likewise coming to judgment.

"A great moral victory" is the way the Uniontown Standard refers to the defeat by a small minority in Pennsylvania of Woman Suffrage. Now what does The Standard know about moral victories?

In former times the boys and girls who haunted the hills of Somerset county were in danger of being bitten by snakes. The snakes are pretty well cleaned out, but it seems that there are a lot of deadly light and telephone wires running around loose.

The business of the Cupid route to Cumberland has not been in the least disturbed by the improved train service to Morgantown and Fairmont.

The Allies are reorganizing their governments. In former times the governments recalled the communists. The people now recall the statesmen.

The victim of contagious disease who causes the dismissal of the whole school for a day or two until the room is being fumigated is a martyr to the cause of liberty, but he does not always appreciate the honor.

Connellsville seems to have some people who prefer to take their chances of the Penitentiary rather than work for a living. There is no question about it. The work is here, but the burglaries continue.

A new industry is knocking at the door of Conneltsville. Give it the open way, the glad hand, the cordial encouragement. There is no reason why Conneltsville should not be a successful glass center as well as some of the neighboring communities.

The proposed new glass plant is not a blower industry.

New York has plenty of money according to Henry Claws, and no doubt that is the reason J. V. keeps sticking around there.

According to the Washington Observer that county stood still and held its breath on Saturday until the football returns were in, and it's a progressive county, too.

Ancestors

by GEORGE W. KITCH.
Author of "At Good Old Slawash."

Ancestors are found along with old furniture and antique skeletons in all of our best regulated families. Ancestors consist of forefathers and foremothers, to say nothing of foreuncles and aunts, who have done something grand or noble, like being beheaded by a king or having a relative who was a governor of a colony. This excludes them to be pointed out with pride by their descendants forever more.

Being an ancestor is one of the most and most attractive of jobs. It merely consists of being honored by one's descendants. Thus, many ancestors have been enabled to make good after they are dead. More than one ancestor who has gone out of this life a poor person, and only a few jumps ahead of the sheriff, has had the good fortune a century later, to become the an ancestor of some ambitious family with plenty of money, and has become so famous is consequence that his tombstone has had to be enlarged and improved.

Ancestors are one of the most valuable and satisfactory of possessions. They are non-taxable and cannot be stolen. Their upkeep is practically nothing and they do not deteriorate with age or neglect. In fact they increase in value as they grow older. An ancestor one year old is worth a whole mass meeting of fifty-year-old ancestors. Adam is the oldest ancestor, he is 6000 years old, and had a fine record. But he is a common possession, like education and liberty, so he is not valued very highly.

Almost all rich people own and operate ancestors. But the poorest man may have them, too. Many a man who hasn't two cents to his name, and cannot hold a job ten minutes, has ancestors which are the envy of his automobile neighbors. We cannot buy ancestors, if we do not have them, but we can buy them for our children by marrying discreetly. A full set of the imported ancestors can now be purchased for a million dollars. The great trouble with these imported goods is the fact that they are often badly imitated with descendants. Some of the very finest ancestors have been almost ruined by these parasites and there is no legal cure.

In England everybody has ancestors. Some of them are over 1,000 years old, and are still in a state of excellent preservation. The best American brand came over in the Mayflower about 200 years ago. Most of the better grades of American ancestors are now controlled by a trust, the Daughters of the Revolution.

We should all be proud of our ancestors, but not out loud.

MAKE $1000

ONLY ONE CHANCE LIKE THIS

We want your co-operation. You want this opportunity. You can invest not less than $1 nor more than $40, for from $25 to $1000 of the first allotment of the Common Stock of a Corporation that owns what experts who have seen it say, "is some of the best Mahogany Timber on the American Continent, with logging conditions all that could be desired."

Only 800 Miles From New Orleans

Frank G. Carpenter, traveler and correspondent said: "Here in the District of Peten, Guatemala, are the most valuable virgin forests of Mahogany and other tropical hard woods in the world."

All Water Transportation

On our concession, direct from the Government, we have over 350 logs worth $1500 per log, 1 to 3 miles over hard land from a river on which they can be floated to tide water at either of two ports from which ships take two trade brands of Mahogany, which are cut just across the river from our land and named for these ports, to the markets of America and Europe. There has never been an ax in our timber.

Write for This Book Today

We have a booklet describing our enterprise and giving our credentials, with full account of expert examination of the timber, which consumed 40 days, and is from a source that cannot be questioned. We will send this booklet immediately on request, but only to those who are sufficiently interested to inclose from $1 to $40 with application for from $25 to $1000 of Common Stock.

Entire Capital Stock $1.25 Per Acre

Timber worth $1000 per acre. We will accept only $25,000 on the terms of this offer. It will be oversubscribed. There will be no second offer on this basis and it will require an investment of $40 to $400 to buy what you will get of this allotment for from $1 to $10. We want the co-operation of a large number of comparatively small investors whose interest has become the same as ours through a small investment in Common Stock, and this offer is so advantageous that we must eliminate curiosity seekers. Inclose $1 to $40 by Bank Draft, Postal or Express Money Order, to order of Robert Morris & Co., 715 Second National Bank Building, Akron, Ohio.

Your money will be returned in full, if requested after you have read our booklet, not later than 20 days from this date, no attention will be paid to correspondence without remittance.

Why a REGAL Trade-Marked Shoe Spells Economy to You

THE trade-mark on a shoe—just as on a garment or a canister of coffee—means that the reputation of the manufacturer stands behind the quality of the article.

And this, in a Regal, means that a quarter of a century's volume shoe-production and distribution to all parts of the world assures you that shoes trade-marked REGAL represent the utmost style and value that can be "built into" them at the price.

You can pay more for less value, but you can't buy more shoe value for $4.00.

HOOPER & LONG'S

Brings Results

Manufacturers should be interested in the experience of one of the great corset manufacturers.

He says:

"The obvious purpose of national corset advertising is to bring trade to the local retailer. Make a canvass of the retailers in New York or Knoxville, in Chicago or Kan-kakee, and it's a safe bet that 100 per cent. will urge the use of the local daily newspaper in preference to all other mediums.

"And that's a conclusive test. The local dealer knows what brings results to him."

Does not the same principle apply to any other good product?

REMARKABLE RESULTS OF THE
NEW TONOLINE TABLETS IN MANY CASES OF RUN-DOWN MEN AND WOMEN.

Prove It Yourself by Buying a Box of Tonoline Tablets Now.

"By George, I never saw anything like the effects of that new treatment, Tonoline Tablets, for building up of weight and lost nerve force. It acted more like a miracle than a medicine," said a well known gentleman yesterday in speaking of the revolution that had taken place in his condition. "I began to think that there was nothing on earth that could make me fat. I tried tonics, digestives, heavy eating, diets, milk, beer and almost everything else you could think of."

Any man or woman who is thin can recover normal weight by the best new treatment, Tonoline Tablets. "I have been thin for years and began to think it was natural for me to be that way. Finally I read about the remarkable success brought about by use of Tonoline Tablets so I decided to try myself. Well, when I look at myself in the mirror now, I think it is somebody else. I have put on just forty pounds during the last forty days, and never felt stronger."

Tonoline Tablets are a powerful inducer to nutrition, increase cell-growth, food, increases the number of blood corpuscles and as a necessary result builds up muscles, and adds healthy flesh, and rounds out the figure.
For women who can never appear stylish in anything they wear because of thinness this remarkable treatment may prove a revelation. It is a beauty maker as well as a firm builder and nerve strengthener. Tonoline Tablets cost $1 for a 15-day's treatment, at drugstores, or mailed by American Proprietary Co., Boston, Mass.

TREAT CATARRH BY NATURE'S METHOD

Every Breath of Hyomel Carries Healing Medication Into the Infected Membrane.
Nearly every one who has catarrh knows how foolish it is to try and cure it with sprays, lotions, and the like. Temporary relief may be given, but a cure seldom comes.
Until recently your physician would probably have said the only way to help catarrh would be to have a change of climate; but now with a simple preparation called Hyomel you can carry a health-giving climate in your vest pocket and by breathing it a few minutes four times a day successfully treat yourself.
The complete Hyomel outfit is inexpensive and consists of an inhaler that can be carried in the vest pocket, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomel. The inhaler lasts a life time, and if one bottle does not give permanent relief, an extra bottle of Hyomel can be obtained at any time for a trifling sum. It is more economical than all remedial advertised for the cure of catarrh, and is the only treatment known to us that follows nature in her method of treating diseases of the respiratory organs.

A. A. Clarke has sold a great many Hyomel outfits and the more he sells the more convinced he is that it is perfectly safe in guaranteeing to refund the money if Hyomel does not relieve.—Adv.

At the Theatres.

MOISSON THEATRE.

"JUDY FORGOTT."—The celebrated comedienne, Marie Cahill will appear at the Moisson Theatre today in the five reel comedy drama, "Judy Forgiven." You all remember "Judy's Punished Romance." Well this is something like it, only better. Miss Cahill has made an immense hit in this production. Marie Walsam, appears today in the thrilling railroad three reel film feature, "A Fight to a Finish." Miss Walsam has again proved her right to the title, "the dare devil of the film." In this play she is cast as the sister of a young telegraph operator, who falls into the clutches of a band of crooks, and later when they have finished with him, throw him on the railroad tracks in the path of an oncoming train. His sister makes a daring rescue from the cowcatcher of the train. The Animated Weekly has a fine lot of interesting features, including the great Columbia. The celebration in Chicago. Tomorrow, D. W. Griffith will present his celebrated four reel sensational drama, "The Great Leap," or "Fool Death Do Us Part."

COLONIAL THEATRE.

"THE MARRIAGE OF KITTY."—The Paramount attraction at the Colonial Theatre this afternoon and tonight, is a comedy of modern continental and American life and manners, which on the legitimate stage has been presented in all Europe and America. Miss Ward, an international comedienne, will make her dramatic debut as KITTY. She is supported by a cast of stars all of whom are familiar to Paramount goers. The production is up to the latest standard which means a lot and it is bound to please all who see it.

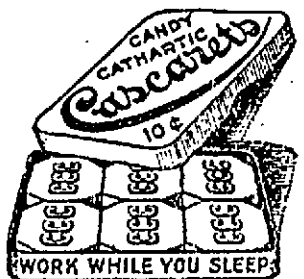

NUNN & SMITH BROS. MODERN MINSTRELS.

Nunn & Smith Brothers' Modern Minstrels which will appear here in the one show that is different. No expense has been spared to gather a company of artists. This has been accomplished. In this progressive day it is useless to give painted accounts of the performance. People can tell. They don't believe all they hear. Neither do they believe all they see. But when you put 400 two to gether it is safe to say they will be convinced. Hear the band and singing concert at noon and see the performance. This will convince you that this is a show of quality. Without a doubt, there are very few companies who have as many good dancers, funny jokes, catchy song features and artists as this one and still make the prices reasonable. Don't forget the date and above all don't miss the band and singing concert. This is the proof. Nunn & Smith Brothers.

THE GLOBE.

"THE CIRCULAR PATH."—Presenting Henry Walthall, Warren Howard, Edmund F. Cobb and Camille D'Arcy, is a feature today. The production is a powerful Essay on drama in three acts. First, Doreen Kirby is in love with a woman who is fond of all the gaudy life. She refuses to marry him and finally the preacher picks up the pulp for the love of the girl. But he has not been trained in the paths of the world and so fails to make good. Finally he goes west for a new start in life, leaving his wife behind. Lonely she takes up with an old sweetheart and spends much of her time with him. The western venture does not prove profitable, and sick and discouraged, the former preacher returns east. He finds his wife in a cafe with the other man and in a fit of jealousy shoots his rival. Thinking he killed him he hides in the stables where he drops to the depths of degradation. Hearing the man is alive, the preacher again makes a man of himself, and with his wife starts out on the right path. Isabelle Rae is featured in a three-act drama, "At the Round End." Helen Holmes is presented in a great railroad drama, "A Girl's Grip." "Tearing a Tornado" a Lubin comedy, completes the bill. Tomorrow Myrtle Gonzalez and William H. Thompson will be presented in "The Golden Grain," a Vitaphone feature in two acts.

ARCADE THEATRE.

"THE FIXER."—Something brand new in motion picture comedy will be the offering at the Arcade Theatre today when George Klemenc "The Fixer" featuring Bickle and Watson is scheduled for screening. "The Fixer" is the latest production of the Klemenc Studios and is many ways a precedent maker. The interior, supporting cast and general detail is of real feature quality which is unusual to comedy productions. The greatest slapstick artists in the world, Bickle and Watson, will be seen in a logical story, charged with many funny situations and in no way dependent upon the ordinary family about comedy or stock business tricks of any individual. Supporting Bickle and Watson are Sully Edwards, Ben L. Torgart, Alma Hudson, Ruby Hoffman, John Nicholson and other Broadway artists. The story is familiar to theatre-goers of the last two generations as "Hello Bill." With M. Goodman's famous stage farces on which the film is founded. Tomorrow, the Metro Picture Corporation presents the brilliant appearance of Florence Reed in "Her Own Way," a strong story of love and hate.

A Real Flesh Builder for Thin People

Who Would Increase Weight and Put on Healthy, Stay There Flesh.

Thin men and women who would like to increase their weight with 10 or 15 pounds of healthy "stay-there" fat should try eating a little Sargol with their meals for a while and note results. Here is a good test worth trying. First weigh yourself and measure yourself. Then take Sargol—one tablet with every meal—for two weeks. Then weigh and measure yourself again. It isn't a question of how you look or feel or what your friends say and think. The scales and tape measure will tell their own story. Many people, having followed these simple directions, report weight increases of from five to eight pounds with continued gains under further treatment.

Sargol does not of itself make fat but mixing with your food its purpose is to help the digestive organs turn the fats, sugars and starches of what you have eaten, into flesh, ripe fat producing nourishment for the tissues and blood—prepare it in an easily assimilated form which the blood can readily accept. A great deal of this nourishment now passes from thin people's bodies as waste. Sargol is designed to stop the waste and make the fat producing contents of the very same meals you are eating now develop pounds and pounds of healthy flesh between your skin and bones. Sargol is non-injurious, pleasant, efficient and inexpensive. Leading druggists are authorized to sell it in large boxes—four tablets per box—for a guarantee of weight increase or money back as found in every package.—Adv.

"Granny" Chamberlain

Everybody's friend when they have coughs and colds and their children have croup and whooping cough.

Most everyone knows me. I have been going from home to home for nearly fifty years—always welcome, too, for I never fail in their hour of need.

I have helped young mothers whose babies were choking with croup, and been the comfort of parents whose children tramp to school through the wet winter weather. Many a cold and attack of bronchitis I have warded off, and thousands I have helped through the anxious moments of whooping cough. I have come to the aid of mothers and fathers when they had colds and influenza, and have been a relief to old folks suffering from bronchitis and asthma.

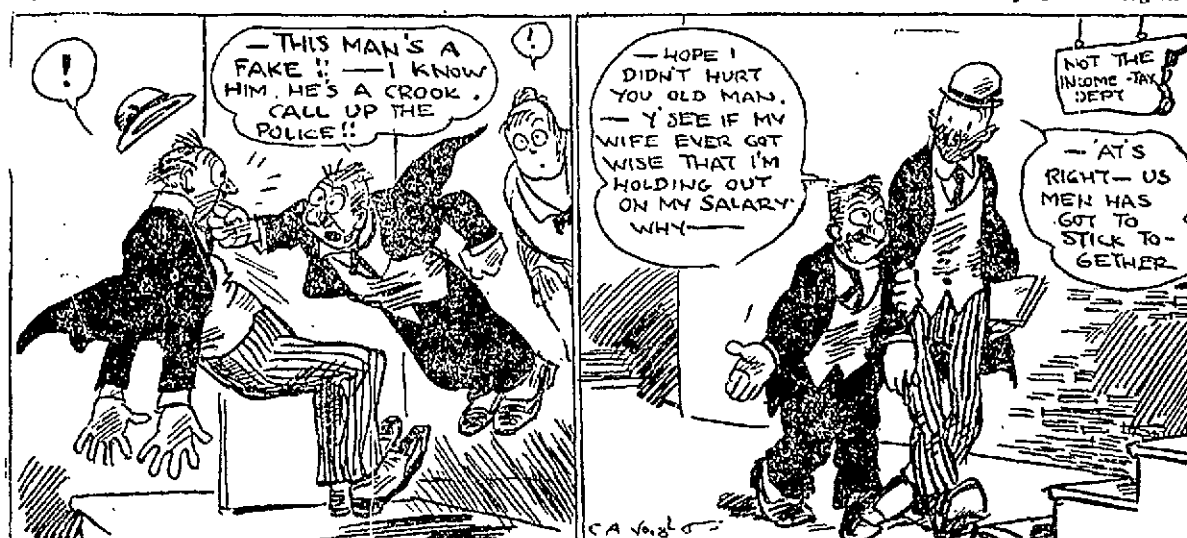

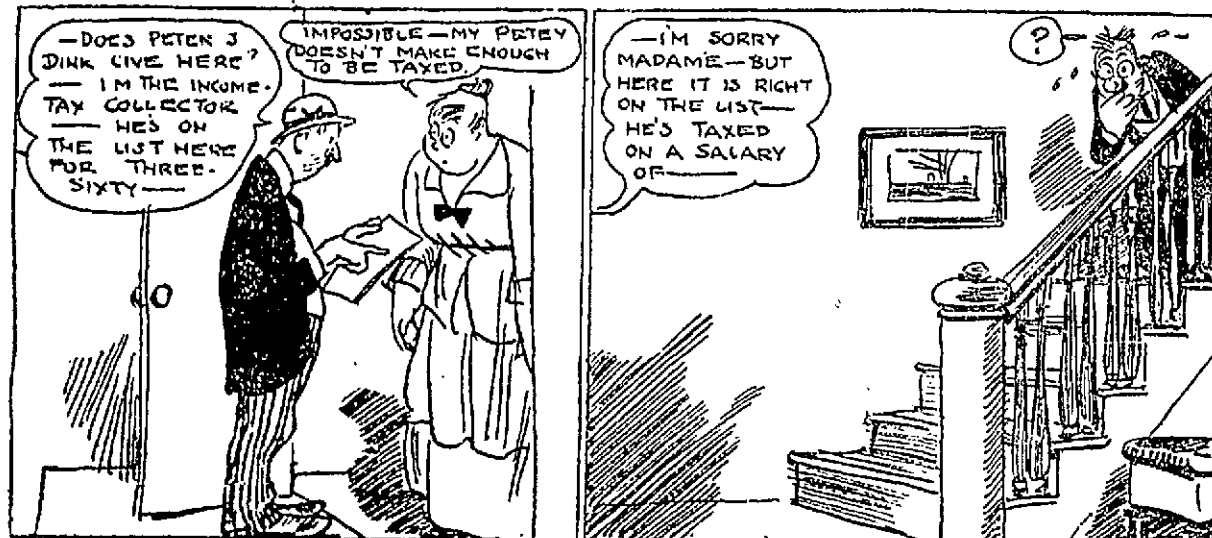

I have had a most varied experience; I go everywhere—among the rich and the poor, in cities and the country.

Now don't forget "Granny" Chamberlain! You will see me often now, for I am going to tell you of my experience and what can be done in your home with Big Pimples Came, Itched Nearly All Time, Could Not Go Anywhere, Face Awful Looking, Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. In Six Months Face Well.

Clark Green, Pa.—"About two years ago acne broke out on my neck and jaw bones. Great big pimples would come and they would look awful. They would itch nearly all the time. I tried to scratch them. Sometimes I could not go anywhere for my face would be so red and so swollen. I was given some advice and told to get Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I did that for a while and it went away but came back just as bad. Last spring I thought I would try Cuticura Soap and Ointment. My face stopped itching and in three months my face was as good as new. I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment every afternoon and evening before going to bed. In six months my face was entirely well." Woman's World

A Young Pioneer in a New Field For Women.

MISS BEULAH LIVINGSTONE.

Miss Beulah Livingston enjoys the distinction of being the first woman theatrical business manager in the country.

Still a girl of twenty-five, Miss Livingston has forged ahead remarkably from a kindergarten teacher daily venturing into the magazines by composing children's tales to a position of tremendous responsibility, requiring the handling of large sums of money and constant judgment in the writing of all advertisements, booklets, window cards, designing the three sheets, attending to correspondence, paying salaries and generally running the business end of a play in one of New York city's new theaters.

This southern girl, with her golden hair and laughing eyes, is the very last person you would expect to find in an office with her own name on the door. She was born and educated in Georgia.

A few years ago she went north and entered a normal school, later becoming a kindergarten teacher on the east side. In this corner of "the great melting pot" nearly every nationality was represented. Those children could not understand, as a class, tales that the average American child can grasp. So she wrote her own stories and finger plays. One morning the supervisor demanded where she had got them, as she had not seen them in the other schools. The young pedagogical blushing replied that she had written them herself. Later she sold these, her first "masterpieces," to the New York Tribune.

At the end of her first scribbling year Miss Livingston had saved enough money for a trip abroad.

Arrived with letters of introduction to Rodin, Zola, D'Annunzio, Ibsen, Tolstoy and Sir Oliver Wyndham, she traveled through Europe and Africa, selling her stories of a trip through the desert on camels. Returning home, she resigned her position as kindergarten teacher and devoted herself to writing. In this corner of "the great melting pot" nearly every nationality was represented. What Tommy Told the Duchess

I bared my manly bosom to 'is 'orrid microscope. I called on Gaud to witness that all my ribs was broken! 'E thumped me and 'e punched me and 'is bloomin' face was long. But when 'e says, "Count five, my lad," I give 'im this 'ere song:

"It's a long way to Tipperary, It's a long way to go, It's a long way to Tipperary, And the sweetest girl I know!"

They chucked me in a luggage van with 'alf a 'undred more. And green some kind of cheer it was, with stave ticks on the floor. The misty 'at was nearest me 'ad lost 'is 'at 'is eyes—

"E cried for 'is old lady and then 'e ups and dies!

"It's a long way to Tipperary, Too far for some to go. It's a long way to Tipperary, Ah, Gaud, 'e loved 'er!"

I 'ad to keep my spirit up, though tears When you're coughing blood and shrapnel, but I 'ad to save my face. So I 'ollered in my blanket, and you bet I made 'em 'ear:

"If any nuck will 'elp me sing I've two bits left for beer."

"It's a long road to Tipperary, We're going 'ome today. We cursed the surgeon for a thief, but 'e wouldn't let us stay."

Then something must 'ave 'appened, for an English nurse was near. With natural impetuosity I said, "Mornin', sister, dear!"

She turned as white as paper. "Man, be careful what you say! You 'ave 'ere spoke for seven weeks—we thought you'd die today!"

"It's a long way to Tipperary, But when I 'ave in view, I'll not mind the crutches because my 'eart is true. I don't mind your crutches, Tom, I know your love is true!"

That's what I will say to me When I 'ave 'em all in view—Romilly Thornton in New York Times.

BROKERS WANT TO SELL "WAR BABIES," BUT ARE AFRAID

Fear Their Paper Profits of Millions Will Vanish if They Sell Stock.

The man who had a $10,000 bill, but couldn't buy a ham sandwich, had fewer worries than the small group of Wall street men who marked Bethlehem Steel from about $30 to $900 a share. They have paper profits of many millions and most of the stock. They would like to change the profit picture into real money, but they are afraid to do this they fear the bottom will drop out of the market, and even paper profits will vanish, for in marking up prices they have in a way overreached, for at $900 a share the chips in this premier "war baby" gamble are too large to handle.

To add to their troubles, each is afraid the other will get the cream of the market by being the first to sell, and none is made any more comfortable by the knowledge that Bethlehem may go to 700 or 1,000. The shrewder of the planners are willing some one else should have these possible gains, only they cannot find that somebody else.

In many respects the situation is the most peculiar that has arisen in Wall street in many years. The stock is closely held, yet it is not cornered. In it there is substantially no short interest. That was long ago forced to cover. Nor is there much chance of its being renewed. Wall street is full of men who believe Bethlehem would be down at one-third of its present price, but if they sell to sell they have difficulty in arranging the trade, for some of the largest houses refuse to sell Bethlehem unless the certificates are handed in with the order. The uncertainty as to where Bethlehem may land is responsible for this position of brokers who believe in "safety days."

None of these conditions would exist had the public got hold of Bethlehem. If it had been—again using the language of the street—distributed.

To make this distribution easy it is now proposed to split the existing $100 par value shares of Bethlehem into ten shares each. Ten pieces of paper will always sell for more than one piece representing the same amount of property, and the public will buy into the game if the chips are made small enough.

LIVED WITH PEN IN BRAIN.

Autopsy Reveals Instrument, but No Sign of Injury Was Visible.

An autopsy performed on Daniel McLaughlin, who died in Brooklyn after lying unconscious forty-three days, disclosed the fact that a fountain pen four inches long had been driven into his brain through the eye socket in such a way as to give no sign of injury except a slightly swollen eye and a small bruise. Coroner Wagner said McLaughlin had been murdered, but the police have no clues to work on.

McLaughlin was found in a truck in a vacant lot. His left eye was bruised, and his left elbow was fractured. When he regained consciousness at the hospital he gave his name and said he was thirty-five years old. Beyond that he said no more, a mumbled address being found not to be that of any person known him.

Dr. Tong performed the autopsy and discovered the fountain pen. It had entered the brain point first and between the ball of the thumb and the neck. Dr. Tong said it looked to him as if the pen had been jabbed into the socket and then driven in by a man's heel.

Failure after much perseverance is better than never to have had a striving worth calling a failure.

PRACTICAL OVERCOAT.

A Garment Which Will Be Found Indispensable in Cold Weather.

IDEAL FOR MOTORING.

This practical overcoat is indispensable during the coming cold weather. Aside from that, it is an ideal motor or rain coat. Featured in molton mixture, with velvet collar and cuffs, it is smart and sensible. Fullness develops from the inserted pleat in the center back, falling in deep folds at the bottom. The raglan sleeves and semi-belt effect are notable features. A turtleneck hat and cloth-topped button boots are correctly worn.

SPORTS SHOES.

For the First Time in History Women's Feet Are Emancipated.

Sports shoes are good looking, they are comfortable, they give freedom to body and to lungs. Sports shoes, for the first time in women's history, allow her feet to be set on the ground in that beautiful and satisfactory way which men have known for years.

This very matter of foot furnishing is in itself a boon, since it not only makes the foot itself symmetrical, but the body is held rigid, hips and shoulders are well poised, the woman for once may walk as a human being and not as a miniature, feminine creature. This correct pose for the foot and body is something that concerns the strength, whether one walks or stands, for walking is made easier and more pleasurable, the heart has less work to do, there is no wrong pressure upon nerves or the bony structure.

Osteopathy of late years has proved that this last named mistake sometimes affects the general health or health of the various organs of the body, and certainly that which affects or harms the general health will not add to the beauty, to the good looks of the complexion, the contour of the face nor the brightness and pleasing expression of the eye.

To hark back to the matter of the correct and manly last used for sports shoes for women, it has doubtless surprised many to find out how becoming these shoes are to the feminine foot. Indeed, any correctly shaped foot needs neither pointed toe nor French high heel to appear to advantage, for these indeed are supposed to hide or disguise defects, as well as to highlight good points.

But the human foot, the natural human foot, is possessed of its own beauty and looks well in any shoe which has a good last as its foundation, and women as well as men view with surprise that trim, dainty member in a sports shoe, with low heel, broad toe, well lined inside, so truly good looking in it and with a coquetry all of its own, as distinguished from the deformed, pinched and cramped pedal extremity, tottering about on its ridiculous heel, which was once considered the only way for a woman's foot to be seen in public.

Accessories.

The latest novelties in artificial flowers are in the line of white gauze, huge transparent ones in white gauze with each petal modeled and outlined with a firm, invisible wire incased in the twining at the edge. A cluster of yellowish plants represents the heart. Butterflies are treated in a similar artistic way.

Delicate sachets are edged with light puffs in green gauze. The ombre duster center is also shaded with a veil of green gauze.

A cascade of tulle or chiffon is an appropriate accompaniment to the summer dress of voile.

The newest silk purse bags have no tassel at the bottom.

To Clean Lace Yokes.

Lace yokes may be cleaned by an application of any white paste (and liquid) for cleaning white shoes. Rub paste on smoothly, allow to dry and then brush it off. Do not use any cleaning preparations which require water for mixing.

Parents Should Know This Splendid Remedy

Simple Laxative Compound Helps to Correct Constipation in Children.

With all children there are times when the bowels fail to act normally and it becomes necessary for the parents to administer a remedy. Cathartics and purgatives should never be used as these agents afford only temporary relief while their violent action shocks the system badly. Mrs. E. P. Gaff, 517 10th St., Washington, D. C., says that her little girl, Marie, had been subject to constipation, and that she found Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin the best remedy because of its mildness, and now always keeps a bottle of it in the house. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a compound of simple laxative herbs, free from opiates or narcotic drugs of any kind, and is an ideal remedy for children because of its mild action and positive effect. It is so tender to strengthen the impaired bowel action and restore normal regularity. It is important that parents should know of a dependable remedy with no unpleasant after effects, griping or strain. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin costs only fifty cents a bottle and can be procured at any drug store. To obtain a trial bottle, free of charge, write to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 161 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

MARIE GAFF.

The Thanksgiving Table

THE table which holds the Thanksgiving turkey should be decorated in a manner to do honor to the day. If the children are to be admitted to the dining room and the dinner is to be a family feast, as all true Thanksgiving dinners should be, here is a suggestion which will appeal to the oldest as well as the youngest members.

Use the best tablecloth that the house affords and have it bordered to perfection. A damask cloth with the design in autumn leaves is the most appropriate. Have the color scheme of the table carried out in shades of gold, russet and brown, with here and there a faint touch of green. In the center of the table arrange a mound of nuts about a large vase of green glass, which should be filled with leathery chrysanthemums, yellow and brown and rich red in color. To please the children have three or four diminutive brownies in the act of playing football over the nuts. These funny little men will help to make the dinner a jolly affair.

Have the table lighted by six candles. Select yellow ones and place them in Dresden china candlesticks shaded by yellow silk chrysanthemums. The rest of the room should be lighted with lamps.

The latest idea for dinner cards is to have the card bent so that it stands up like a little frame. At the top an exquisitely made paper chrysanthemum is tied, and the name of the guest is written below it in gilt straight across the card.

The souvenirs of a Thanksgiving dinner are also important. They are passed to each guest right after the food, which should be in the form of small turkeys. The keepsake souvenirs are most in demand this year. Little pumpkins shaped like turkeys covered with yellow crêpe paper and supporting on the cover a merry little kewpie dressed in yellow paper are suitable for inexpensive souvenirs. The boxes are shaded with chocolate peppermint. Other boxes in this same shape have brownie playing football on the cover. They are made of thick, water color paper and painted with a whole swarm of little brownies. Brownies tied to packages of chocolate wrapped in gilt paper are sold for Thanksgiving souvenirs, and so are turkeys in gold and red standing proudly on top of the packages.

Flowerpot Cookery For the Children

If you want to keep the children quiet and happy for a long morning set them at flowerpot cookery. It is a game they will not have enough of in many mornings, in fact, for its possibilities are many.

Get a good tin flowerpot for each child. The large twelve inch pots make the most successful "stoves." Set a good sized candle in a low candlestick and place the flowerpot over it, bottom side up, in such a way that the flame is directly beneath the hole in the bottom of the pot. The candle should be just long enough to reach the hole. Over this tiny but efficient burner all sorts of cooking can be done in little time. Tiny bits of meat can be broiled, potatoes can be cut in tiny cubes and fried, little pieces of bread can be toasted, and water may be boiled. Eggs, too, can be fried, one at a time. If neither has time the children can be taught to cream various vegetables in thickened milk. Tiny pancakes might be tried or vast quantities of soup made.

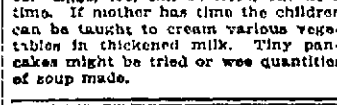

The overturned flowerpot range can be safely manipulated out of doors, for the pot cools the candle flame from the wind and is itself, of course, not inflammable. It is small enough to seem like dolls' play for the children and requires fewer materials than when they try to cook in the kitchen.

A DELICIOUS CUP OF TEA

If you want to keep your friends guessing get from your drugist an eighth of a pound (they are very expensive) of dried orange blossoms and steep two or three in a cupful along with your tea leaves. Omit sugar, lemon or cream, as either obscures the delicate flavor of the orange buds. Be sure you get them strictly fresh and from a reputable source. This novel idea was introduced into smart studies by a clever Frenchwoman recently and has proved very popular.

RAILROAD ORDERS NOW A BIG FACTOR FOR STEEL TRADE

Recovering by Leaps and Bounds Dominating Position They Lost.

RAILS AND CARS IN DEMAND

It is estimated that 40 per cent of the second business placed in October was for the railroad orders are larger than inquiries.

The railroads are in the market for steel. After losing the dominating position they once held with regard to the steel trade, they are recovering that place by leaps and bounds. Orders for rails, ties, locomotives, bridges and other equipment have of late been increasing rapidly. It is estimated that of the 3,000,000 tons of various rolled and forged products placed with the mills in October, 40 per cent was for the railroads. In view of the fact that a year ago the roads were buying barely 12 per cent and for a month or two in 1914 bought as low as 8 per cent of the contracts booked, the present boom is exceptional.

During the past few months the railroads have paid the price of unprecedentedness. Their devotion to rearmament during the dull period resulted in the loss of thousands of dollars of normal business of their industry, when the rush came, to take care of the tonnage offered. While this business is past, and cannot be recovered, the roads are exhibiting a desire to be ready in the future. There is a rush to get locomotives and cars.

Shippers on the Baltimore & Ohio were not particularly surprised to find that system short of cars in the streets. Past experience has led them to expect it. It is well recognized in shipping circles, especially the coal trade, that a car shortage is to be expected on the Baltimore & Ohio when business is brisk, and that the motive power will be insufficient to move what tonnage the road can find cars for. The Baltimore & Ohio is no exception. The Pennsylvania, in similar predicament. The Pennsylvania was for a time too able to supply cars than the Baltimore & Ohio. It is supposed to be the largest supply of any of the eastern roads, but when the first rush came, mines were put on a percentage basis, and 72 per cent of the allotment was the average supply for a month. The Baltimore & Ohio had a hard time to supply 50 per cent of the allotment to the mines.

This situation has resulted in large orders being placed for cars. The New York Central system, the Pennsylvania, the Chesapeake & Potomac, the Western Maryland, the Baltimore & Ohio and all the other roads have placed car orders, and immediate delivery is asked on most of them. The Pennsylvania has announced a rail order of 175,000 tons. The bulk of this order is expected to go to the Steel Corporation, with the Pennsylvania, Cambria, Bethlehem and Lackawanna sharing it. The Steel Corporation is to have 75,000 tons, while the Pennsylvania and Cambria, in which the road owns stock, will get probably 35,000 each, the remaining 25,000 tons being divided between Bethlehem and Lackawanna.

It is estimated that outside of the Pennsylvania business there are on the books for 1915-16 550,000 tons. The Pennsylvania is buying approximately double the tonnage of that of the other roads, in proportion to mileage. Figures show that 40 per cent of the total railway mileage of the country has ordered about 725,000 tons of rails. Prediction are made that the 1916 railbusiness will approximate 3,000,000 tons.

A summary of freight cars ordered, as compiled by the American Metal Market, shows 147,000 for 1915, 80,000 for 1916 and 61,819 for the first six months of 1916. The remaining four months of the present year shows a total of 42,279 cars, or 194,215 cars, with two months yet to be reported. Indications are that the 1916 rail business will be exceeded, and it is almost certain that 1916 will show a larger total than the present year.

FOR TEA AND BRIDGE.

A charming afternoon frock of dark green crepe de chine and chiffon in this one with its over-dress falling in the newest line. A rolling collar of white satin is held close to the neck by a band of beaver and the same soft fur weights the transparent sleeves of self-tone. Heavy silk embroidery banding crosses the front and forms a belt at sides and back, the front being in the modish pin-up style. The over-dress is of the crepe and the drop skirt is of the same material.

SCOTSDALE DEFENDS ACTION OF FOOTBALL TEAM ON GRIDIRON

Claims Walter Camp Says Players Were Right at Uniontown.

AN UNTRUE CONTROVERSY ON

Uniontown, Scottdale and Connelville Have Divergent Ideas of Sportsmanship, but Connelville's is the Best Variety: Local Team Never Quits.

Connelville, Uniontown and Scottdale high schools through the press of the three towns are engaged in a rather unique controversy over the sportsmanship of the football teams that represent them this year or have represented them in the past. Connelville is really not vitally interested for the high school team was defeated at Scottdale and no kick is being made about it, other than to contend that its Westernmost county rivals will rather quit than lose.

Uniontown and Scottdale are still scrambling violently over the decision in the game between the two teams which caused Scottdale to leave the field, forfeiting the game to Uniontown. Scottdale has presented its case to Walter Camp, the authority on football matters and his answer is being held forth as a vindication of their contention. Camp is careful, however, not to express his approval of Scottdale's leaving the field.

With all the facts at hand, Connelville football fans point with pride to the fact that never has a local team quit the field through a dispute over a decision and never has it treated its victorious opponents in other than a courteous manner. That is sportsmanship. When two teams get together, they agree upon officials and their authority. These officials are supposed to be fair and in most cases they try to be so—absolutely. In case of a dispute the captains of the two teams may protest to the officials. If the referee makes a decision it is supposed to be law. The team that quits the field no matter how unjust the decision is not made up of true sportsmen and the coaches who permit it do not have the true spirit. Connelville coaches tell their men to go ahead and play harder, with the belief that players spurred on by the belief that they are victims of an unjust decision will play all the harder.

In the game with Connelville in 1914, Scottdale players won the game through a play that was admittedly illegal but the officials yielded to their protest when the team threatened to quit. The game threats to leave the field were heard in the game this year. In both games Scottdale came out victorious.

The sporting editor of The Courier believes that Scottdale was robbed of a victory in Uniontown but he maintains that Scottdale was wrong in leaving the field. "No matter if Uniontown University did the same thing in a game, it is only to be regretted that a university team would quit."

Even worse sportsmanship was shown by Uniontown, however, when they beat up the victorious Connelville players in their gymnasium after the game in 1914. Since then athletic relations between the schools have been severed—with no likelihood of their being patched up.

The Courier repeats Scottdale's justification of its actions on the football field, believing that it makes interesting reading: "Apparently the athletes in neighboring towns do not have a correct knowledge of the facts leading to Scottdale's refusal to continue the game at Uniontown October 15. We at least would like to have our critics understand the causes before they pass judgment. The only agreement made at the time the field judge was taken out of the game was that the head linesman should have no power to reverse a decision of the referee or umpire and that he should not be allowed to decide any dispute that might arise between the referees and umpire. This according to the rules was unnecessary but memories of a former defeat due to a vote of officials caused it to be mentioned. When the break-up came the agreement in some way was misconstrued. The Scottdale team did not leave the field because of a misunderstanding of this nature nor was the disqualification of a player the cause of the game. The referee reported a man choking and twisting the neck of the player carrying the ball after the ball was dead. This same player had been warned by him on two previous occasions for the same offense. The penalty demanded was disqualification. At the same time the head linesman reported a Scottdale player singling and demanded the same penalty. Scottdale did not refuse to accept this disqualification but demanded that both disqualifications be enforced and the penalty neutralized in accordance with rule 15, section 8. The referee insisted that choking was not punishable by disqualification and that only a 15 yard penalty could be imposed. Under these circumstances Scottdale left the field.

"The following letter was sent to Secretary Taylor of the Central Board at Philadelphia. It forwarded it to Walter Camp at New Haven. Both letters follow: "Mr. George Taylor, Philadelphia, Pa. Dear Sir—In a game Saturday with the team of a neighboring town a dispute arose which may terminate athletic relations between the two towns. Our team had the ball on their opponents' 7 yard line on first down. On the next yard line the ball was carried to the three yard line. After the ball was dead the umpire caught a player of the opposing team deliberately choking and twisting the neck of the player who had carried the ball. He reported the offense to the referee with disqualification as the penalty. The player committing the offense had been warned by the umpire on two previous occasions for the same offense. The game was becoming rough and a team mate of the offending player had been disqualified for singling a few plays previous. The officials in charge were not Central Board Men. Was the umpire justified in the penalty disqualification?"

Mr. John G. Warner, Scottdale, Pa. Dear Sir—Replying to your favor, I should be glad to be of service to you at any time. "Yes, the umpire was quite within his rights under the rule for unnecessary roughness. Yours very truly, WALTER CAMP."

"This should make it very clear that Scottdale was continuing for that game. It is the first time a Scottdale high school team has quit and no repetition is expected. It has been insinuated that Scottdale has a tendency to quit under fire and that several towns have dropped them for that reason. Then we do not play Greensburg and Johnstown but that is due to the managers not being able to agree upon the place for the game. The Scottdale team hopes to win its games by its own strength and not through officials. If some of our critics will only recall the opening game with Connelville was won with a referee from Latrobe and the umpire and field judge from Connelville. Scottdale is trying to furnish a clean article of athletics and almost without exception our visiting teams report equal deal and the field of play unhampered by spectators."

PENNSYLVANIA FREIGHT.

Business of Road in October Is the Greatest in Years.

The Pennsylvania railroad freight business in October was the greatest in any month in years. Measured in loaded cars passing eight representative points on lines east of Pittsburgh, the traffic amounted to 896,769 cars, an increase of 172,422 cars, or virtually 75%, over the September showing.

The indications are that the recently published record earnings for September will be exceeded in October. From the present rate of traffic movement, a new high mark may be set in November.

That the October movement was not confined to any one section of the system, is borne out from the fact that every junction point registered a gain varying individually from 11% to 31%.

Allen, Detected in Trying to Deceive Paying Fines.

An alien at Hooverville, Somerset county, who knows that most birds are good to eat, was charged with shooting two woodpeckers. Evidence against him was strong, but the witnesses did not wish to appear. So Game Protector Kinner H. Rodgers picked up the Hooverville man and trusted to luck and a guilty conscience for a conviction. The accused man denied positively that he had shot woodpeckers. "I didn't shoot anything but a couple of blue squirrels and two robins," he said. "All right," said Rodgers, "you swear to the squirrel that you didn't kill woodpeckers, but that you did kill robins and pheasants, and that will let you out of the woodpeckers."

The man was sworn and gave his statement. "Twenty-five dollars and fifty cents," said the squirrel, much pleased at so brief a hearing. "What," said the alien. "Ten dollars for each robin," answered the court, "and $5.00 for costs."
